

Almost Home

Hours later one boovs (Aliens) found a planet called to Earth.

It was good looking at it, but better on the ground. So they flew down to the ground and landed in a city and found a house. On the street so they went to explore.

Suddenly a fat, fluffy creature appeared through a small square hole in the door. It took one look at the boovs and ran off. The chief said, "Go in Ernie!" So he tried but he was too pump so he got stuck half in and half out of the cat flap.
"Help!" shouted Ernie.

A Most Home

Hours later, one of the boovs (aliens) said to the Chieftain, "I found a planet."

"I like it!" said the Chieftain and they started to go towards the planet. The boovs landed in the African plains and they all had a look around so the Chieftain said "It's brilliant" but just at that moment a cheetah appeared. One of the boovs tried to stroke the cheetah but it growled at them and the cheetah chased them back into the ship.

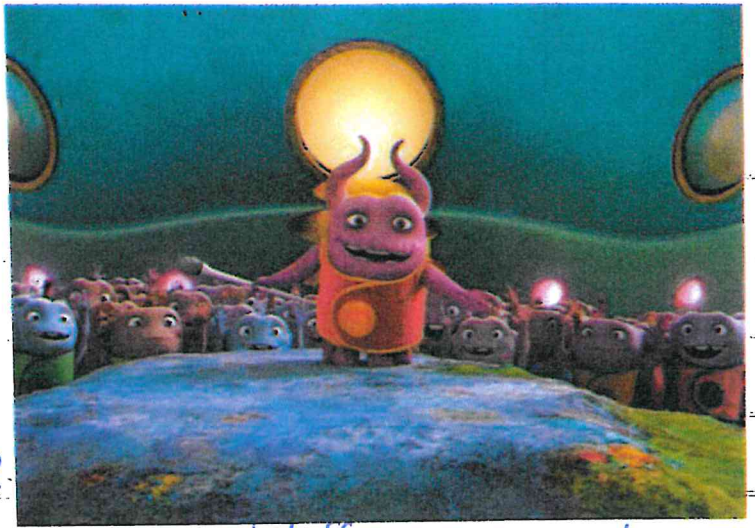

The next port they landed at was next to a river and they saw a huge grey crocodile. One of the boovs tried to pet it but it snapped its jaws and the boovs went away.

Almost Home.

The booves (Aliens) landed in a glowery garden of a lovely looking house and no one lived there. It was perfect, so they settled in. It was cosy and welcoming. They found a sofa which they thought a trampoline. They discover the sink and had a water fight. Ernie found the fridge. He opened the door and the food fell on him constantly. He then burst in into tears. They had a party got, finding a new home! But, they didn't know Sausage-dog lived there. They were chased round the house and then they hid in a bedroom. The dog sniggered the door and then growled a low growl. "Chief, let's stay here and relax on the bed." "No," "We'll hide under it." "Come on the dog's gone we'll find the bath-room because I need a tinkle." But will they escape the dog? Who knows?

Almost Home

The chief boove (Aliens) took the booves to loads of different planets in a dark place but eventually the chief boove said, "Come on booves follow me into the little spaceship." So all of the boove followed the master.

When all of the booves were in the mini spaceship, one of the booves said, "Sir I have found a good planet!" So the chief said "Drive over there."

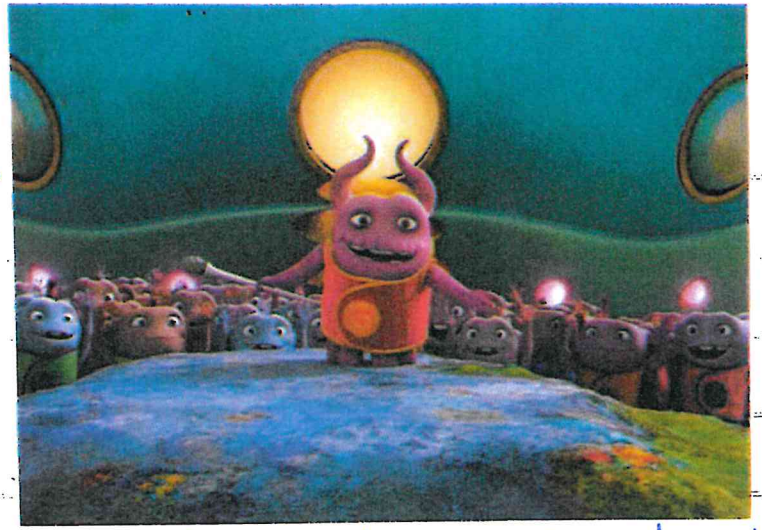

So all of the booves z comed of in thier mini spaceship. "AAAAAhhhhhhhhhh!" all of the shouted. the planet was big and green but it tried to eat them.

"Ah! When am I going to find a home?" said the chief.

"Sir I found the right planet."

The chief said, I've saved you again then the planet blew up because a big fireball came down.

Almost Home

The chief picked up a lamp and scanned the room for danger, narrowing his eyes at every sign of movement. He heard a frightened squeal.

"What was that?" said the chief pointing the lamp in the direction the noise was coming from. "Show yourself."

He crept slowly behind the sofa, and lowered the lamp to see a tiny, tiny, cute pug ~~covered~~ covering his eyes with his paws.

"Ah, please don't hurt me," said the pug in his tiny voice. "I'm innocent."

The chief threw the lamp away and didn't look to see it smash into pieces.

Whilst he was gazing at the pug lovingly, he said, "Wow, a cute tiny thing!" His face lit up with excitement. He then took a huge leap and just caught the pug by the scruff of the neck. The chief pulled him closer and gave him the tightest, friendliest hug.

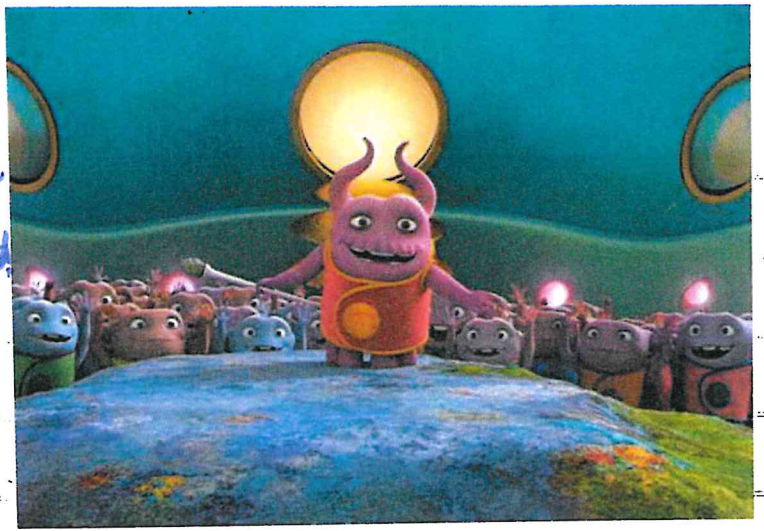

"I can't breathe," said the pug with the chief strangling him around the neck. The chief just took no notice and ~~hugge~~ tightened his grip.

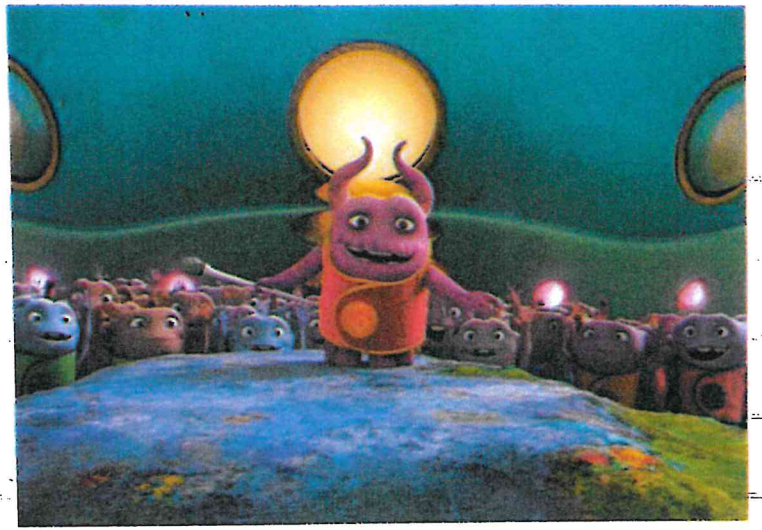

The pug took a breath in, for he couldn't stand it.

Finally, the chief let go, and the pug was gasping for breath.

"Oh, that was horrible," said the pug still breathing hard.

The chief reappeared from the sofa and shouted, "Let's party!"

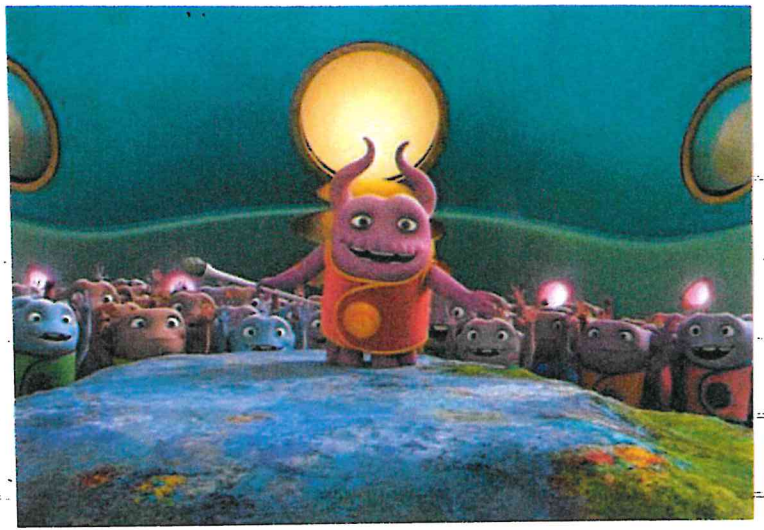

Almost Home

The boovz (aliens) travelled, one by one to other planets. Electricity planet, carnivorous-unicorns, laser squids planet then they found a lovely muddy planet... but as they got nearer the planet it split in half and it had massive fangs.

On the spaceship, the chief boovz said, "I am sorry I have never found you a planet where we can live so now I am going to do the boov death song" ... "Oooh Aaaaah, Oooh Aaaaah"

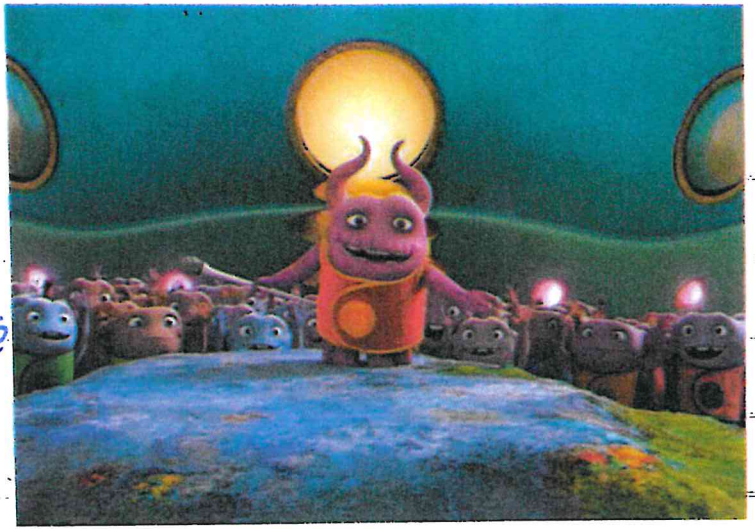

Then suddenly, one boov said he had found a perfect planet and it did not have any monsters, and even the weather is nice, then apparently the chief interrupted and said "I like it" and looked at a very nice planet

Then all of a sudden the planet got hit by a meteorite! Then the chief got really angry and threw his sushier at a boov! The boov which started all of this, gave the chief a detector and he looked up and he had a big grin on his face.

As the chief was having a good laugh about this he said, "New Plan" and they went to . . . Earth! On the spaceship the chief was trying to say earth "Earth, earth, earth, what a terrible name for a planet" "We are here" bellowed the chief "We have landed, but on some kind of small yellow stuff, I must discover what this is." They made their way across the sand and on to a rock and had seen this some kind of food . . . ice-cream.

Almost Home

Next they landed on a place called Antarctica. "It's cold here, isn't it?" The chief boov said (Aliens)

"Yes but it's summer." Ernie said politely to the chief.

"Next place! because it's green grazing! barbar!" said the chief boov. So they ran to their spaceship and zoomed off to the sea.

... They all cannon balled into the sea, "wooo-hoo!!" and they all screamed joyfully, but instead of sinking like a rock they floated just like a ~~tooth~~ balloon would. A couple of moments later they realised that ~~there~~ ^{their} spaceship wasn't where they left it. ~~It~~ ~~It~~ it was drifting away! So the boovs had to work together to propel themselves towards their ship. "Where ~~for~~ ^{never} going to make it! ö!" the boovs said.

Almost Home continued. r.

A couple of hours later,
the boovs were in ~~there~~ their Spaceship parking for air they left earth never to be seen again.

Almost Home

The chief aliens (known as boovs) was delighted with his new planet, I have saved you all again, he boasted. Then the ground started to rumble with excitement one boov even started to cry. Then the chief boov said Welcome home. Then a colossal worm came flying from the ground. So, the chief started to say, Coming through, make way as he pushed through crowds of boovs trying to get into the space-ship, and the hatch closed and they flew off. So, they flew to a new planet. The planet was purple and cold. The chief boov pushed out a boov, whose name was Ernie. Ernie was scared so, cautiously he went down the stairs, he tapped his foot on the ground and said, All clear. Then suddenly, a colossal claw came swooping down it picked Ernie up and swooped off. Then the space-ship shut the hatch and flew off.

Almost Home

When they got there, they were all blown away with amazement. The head boov

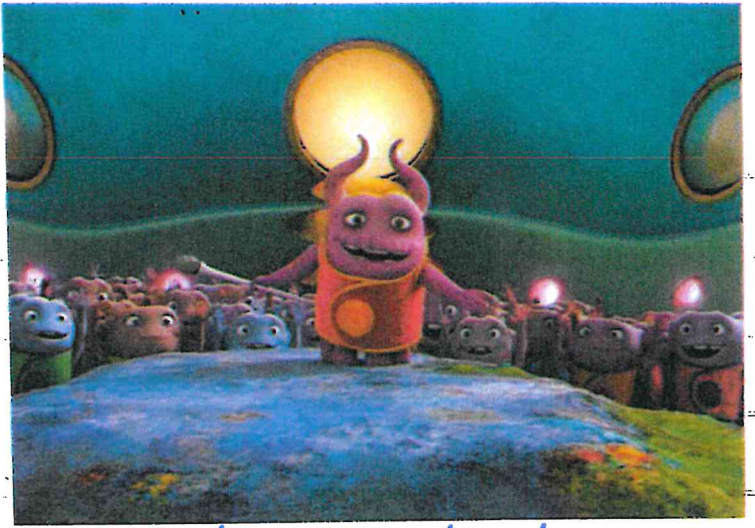

(ALIEN) started to speak, "This is our new home now."

When they landed, they found themselves with loads of animals, then they spotted a sign saying "ZOO"; then Captain Smegg (chief boov) shouted over all the boovs, "Zoo what does zoo mean, hmmm... I know what it means. It means boovs like us hahaha let's walk around."

After that, all the boovs started to open all the cages!!! After they opened every single cage, all the animals ran out running wild!!! "Get them back in their cages!" screamed captain Smegg furiously. While captain Smegg sat on a chair drinking lemonade all the boovs were trying to get the animals in their cages. Finally, after a whole day of running about around, they all looked in one of the cages and then they fell in terrified. Then there came a roar from the cage. From the darkness came a bunny! "Ahh it's going to eat me alive," screamed captain Smegg. They they all found out that they could jump out, so they did. After that Smegg (chief) spoke, "I've saved you again."

Everyone clapped and cheered.

Almost Home

Years later, the boovs (aliens) were getting tired, sad and annoyed, until one day they found a new planet called earth.

When they entered the earth's atmosphere, they felt a thud they were on a beach. They were having fun with jet, speed boats and went paragliding and all sorts of things! They weren't watching their space ship as it drifted off far far away. Then one of the boovs shouted, "Hey!" the boovs weren't listening. "HAY!" he screamed. It went silent.

"What?"

"The ship where is it?"

"The boovs went wild!
th th."

"Get in the boats!"

"Go" they screamed
So they ageter their ships, then they caught up with it.

"Yeah" the chief said

Then they flew into space and the chief said,

"Who's idea was that"
All of the other boovs should,

"YOU"

A Most Home

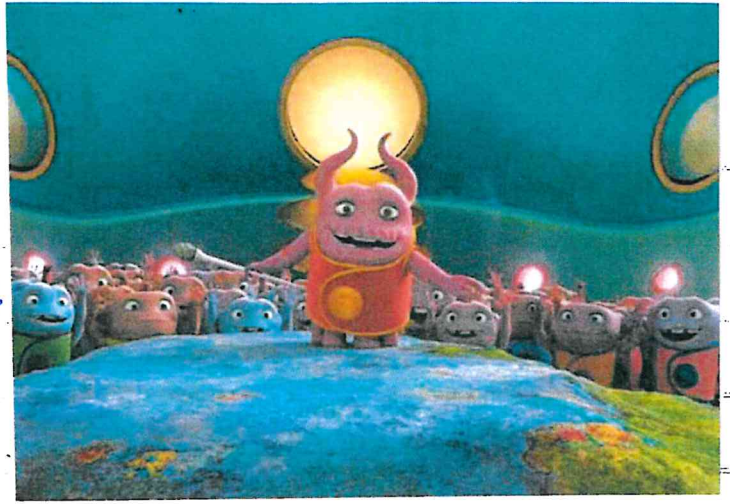

Hours later, one of the boovs (aliens) pointed out yet another interesting planet. It was called Earth.
"Earth, Earth sounds like I caught up a hair ball," said the chief boove.

On Earth they landed on a desert. When they ~~land~~ stepped out they started sinking in sand. The other boovs that were on the ship had to pull ^{them} out with some rope then out of nowear a sand storm swept them away...

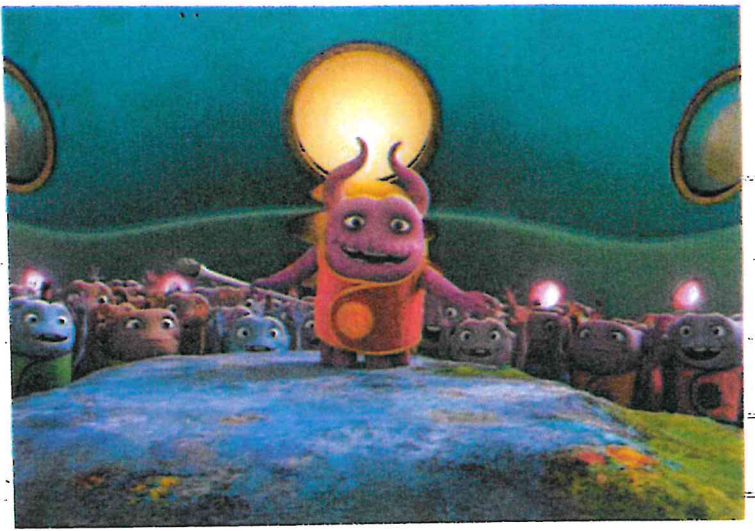

They had to stay at the desert because their ship was very badly damaged. When they had fixed the spacecraft they flew to Africa.

In Africa a fast gazelle was getting chased by a speedy cheetah then a huge lion started attacking the ship and it ripped out the engine.

and ran off with
it. Then koovs
couldn't fix the ship
this time so they were stranded on Earth

A Most Home

All of a sudden, a boov (alien) found our planet - planet earth.

It said "Captain, captain look at this planet we should be able to live in peace on this planet." Captain Schmuck slapped the poor boov in the face. *

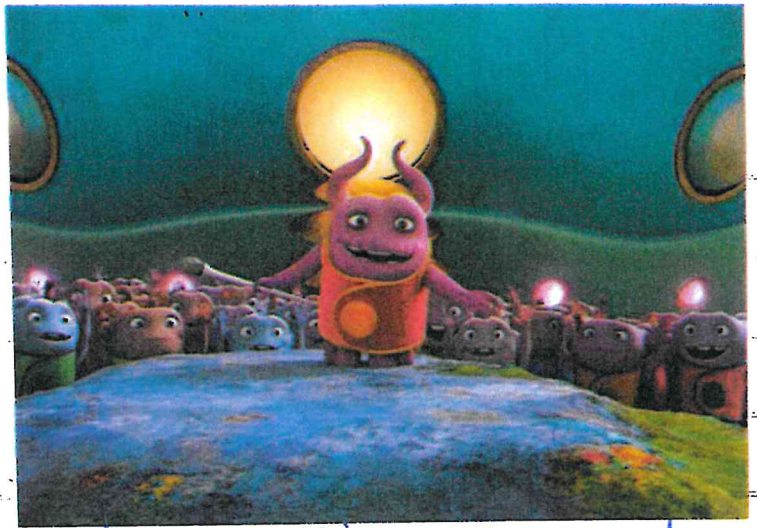

Then he exclaimed "Change of plan!" but it didn't all go well for the name. "It aith, earth, earth sound like I've got a hairball."

The first place they went was the world's hottest desert, so it was way too hot.

The chief boov and the other boovs had their first sunburn. They were as red as a really ripe strawberry. So they flew to a new ~~new~~ part of planet Earth.

This was part was way too cold and they met a fluffy animal.

A Most Home

The boov's (A aliens) ship's hatch opened and to their horror they saw something big, something bad, something like an eel.

But not just any eel a huge electric eel. The hatch closed.

Next they landed on a red planet (without any laser) without any... unicorn. A carnivorous unicorn. A golden, the hatch closed. After that, there were laser squids.

Yes, actually laser squids. Once again, the hatch closed

The boov saw a good looking planet. They were about to land on it when the planet split in half to reveal sharp teeth. Quickly they turned around. Inside the spaceship Captain Smag said,

"It's useless, we'll never find a home planet!"

Just then a boov piped up,

"Captain Smag, I've found a new planet."

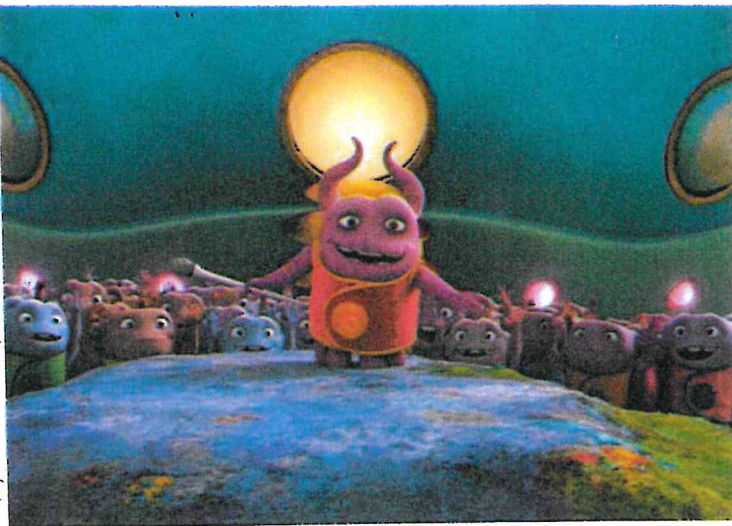

"With any laser squids?"

"No, sir."

"What about carnivorous unicorns?"

"No, sir!"

"I've found a perfect planet."

Almost Home

In a flash, the boovs (aliens) were in a... city! Unfortunately they landed on the main road. Then they ran into the local supermarket. They found the clothes part, and they didn't understand really what clothes were. So Ernie got a ladies dress and men's pants, then tried them on. All the other boovs thought it was ridiculous, but Ernie thought it was lovely. They had, had enough of clothes for one day. So they went somewhere else.

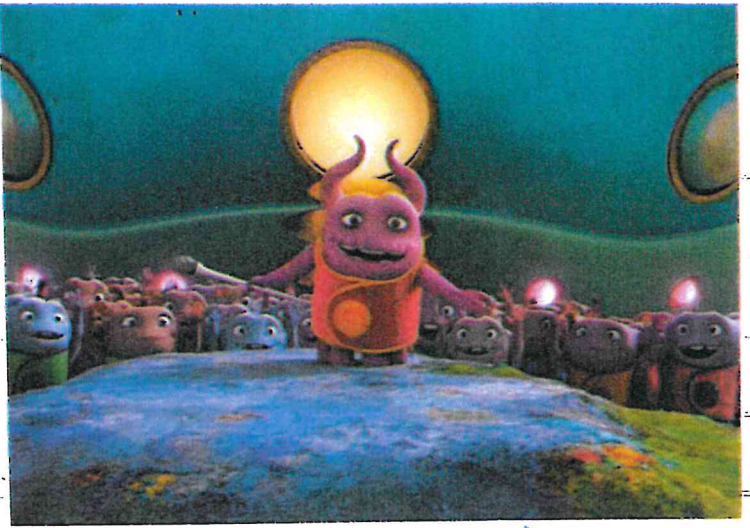

They went to the neighbourhood down the street and into one of the houses. The mother was baking and the children were playing but dad was still at work. Ernie crept in first, one of the children yelled,

"There's an alien in our house mum!"

"I'm not an alien, I'm a boov," Ernie replied.

The house went silent. Would he stay or would he leave...?

Almost Home

Before they could reach the enormous ship, a colossal Humpback Whale about thirty metres long swam swiftly under the poor boons (Aliens) who were still bobbing in the water. The ~~the~~ whale came up for air and the boons peered into the blow hole which was starting to rumble. A jet of water exploded from the whale making the boons go flying into the air and land with a THUD on the the roof of the ship.

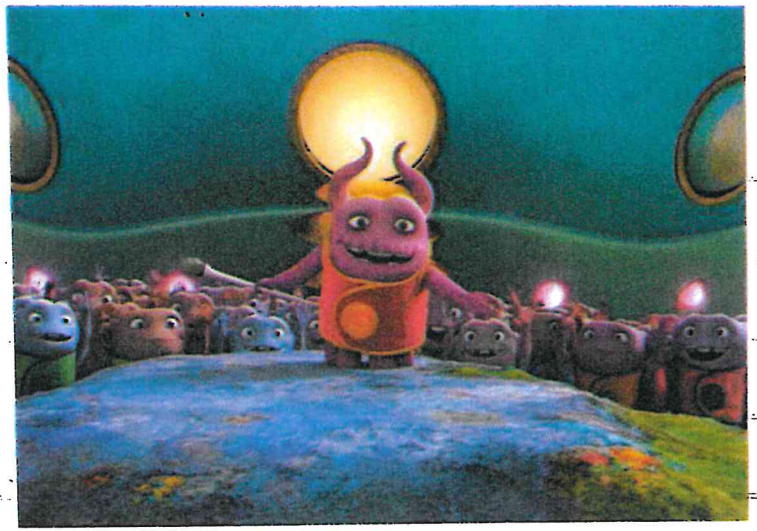

The boons were attracting a lot of attention including quite a lot of birds. There were puggins and an albatross. They were all trying to nibble at the unfortunate boons. The chief was relieved that he wasn't in all of the commotion up on the roof even though he did not know what was going on up above. The boons were waving their minute arms and all saying the same things "Get off me, & get off me!" they cried.

Eventually, they tripped over the edge of the roof and fell into the salty water. Whilst the poor boovs were making their way to the ships, the chieg was making up his mind

whether they should stay or not.

A most home

"Hold on!" shouted the chief (alien), and they fell down straight away. The chief heard the boov (alien) at the top say something like, "You distracted me!"

And at that moment they landed in something splashy and blue.

"Wha - what is this?", said the chief, "and what is that over there?"

"Let's go and see, chief!", said a boov, sounding excited. It was a park. They swam straight out and ran to the park.

"What are these?", asked the chief.

"I think they're called gences.", said a boov.

"What are stupid gences, earthh?"

And the chief got so angry that he started to punch down the gences and break all the rides and then all the boones ran out of the park in an instant.

"Look, there's something brown over there and I think that's - PAINT!", said a boov.

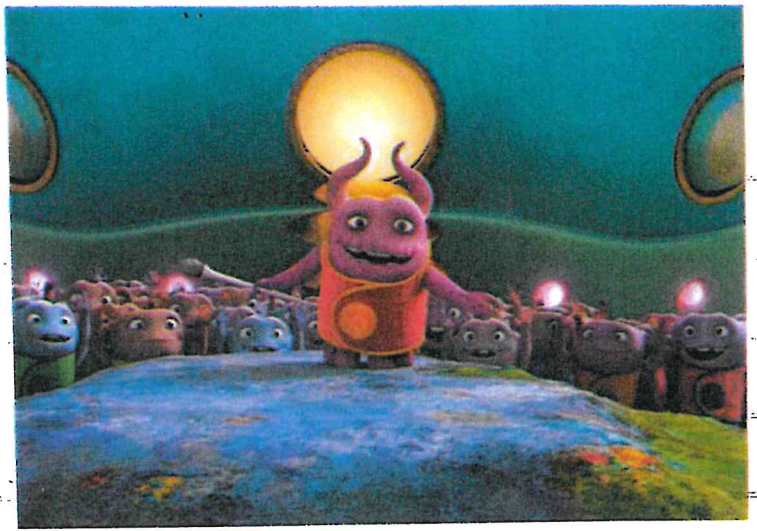

"Well, come on then, LET'S PAINT A HOUSE!"

They ran for the paint and the house and started painting.

"Well that's done," said the chief, "Everything else is boring here, let's go." And in a flash they zoomed away from Earth.

A Most Home

The Boovs flew to a creepy planet. The chief didn't want to go, so he sent poor old Ernie. Ernie did a scarce sigh and went slowly down the steps. He patted the ground with his stumpy feet and shouted, "All clear AAARRRHHHHHH!" As he got scooped up by a dragon like claw and flew away. So they got in their ship and shot away.

The p.

The next planet was a crumbling planet. There was no turning back because every thing they stepped on crumbled away behind them. So they sprinted round the whole planet. So they got in their and zoomed away.

The planet was a never ending desert everywhere you looked there was just sand. Until some killer robots with bright red eyes and they were chanting "kill kill kill" so off they went.

Almost home

The hatch opened, four golden discs came out to make a staircase. Then out came aliens & the boovles followed by their leader, who was purple. He ~~to~~ looked at the colourful planet. He saw lots of steep mountains and green grass on the ground. There were all sorts of plants and flowers: lots of different colours. The chief was delighted with this new planet. "I saved you ^{one} again!" he boasted. The boovles said yey! All of a sudden the ground cracked and out came a enormous worm!