

A long long time ago in a land far far away I lived in a dark gloomy creepy cave. I was a very hungry wolf. But little did I know there were 3 pigs moving in so more food for me.

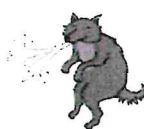

One of the pigs made a ^{house} thatch so I went over to its house. I said, "Little pig, little pig, come out or I will blow your house down!" But it didn't come out so I huffed and I puffed and I blew so the pig ran to the wooden house.

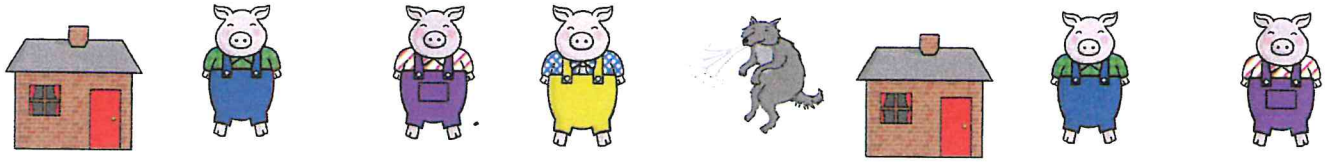

A few days later, the second pig made a house. It was made out of wood so I shouted "little pig, little pig, come out or I will blow your house down!" But they didn't come out still. So I huffed and I puffed and I blew his house down. A couple days later, the 3rd pig made a house. It was made out of bricks. 3 pigs for dinner yummy! I thought to my self my self myself. I went over to the house. I said "Little pigs, little pig, come out or I will blow your house down." I'd said the pig so I huffed and I puffed

and I puffed

and didn't blow down. So I went down the chimney but these pigs were smart.
They put on the fire so my bottom was on fire. ~~was~~ so I ran I nto the sun set. and they all lived happily ever after except for me.

Little Red Riding Hood

Long ago in a spooky, dark forest there lived a wolf. I am very scary and clever.

One dark day I heard someone trotting through the forest. I went to see who it was and it was a girl she said her name was Little Red Riding Hood, "Hello, ~~Little Red~~ Little Red Riding Hood." I said "Where are you going today?" I spluttered

"Hello, I'm going to see my ~~grand~~ granny and give her this good." She said

"Where does your granny live?" I asked

"Over there." she said pointing at a little cottage in the distance.

So I ran over to her granny's house, and gobbled her all up. And ~~then~~ then I ~~gobbled~~ ^{dressed} up as her. But ~~but~~ when Little Red Riding Hood came back she said, "Granny, what big eyes you have!"

"The better to see you witch" I said in a deep voice.

"And granny what big teeth you have!" she squealed

"The better to eat you witch and I ate her all up too."

At that moment, I heard ~~at~~ someone coming in the cottage from all the screaming. It was a woodcutter he had a sharp silver axe. "Help!" I gulped and then he cut me in half, reached in and pulled out Little Red Riding Hood. "You're alive!" he screamed.

"But where's granny" said Riding Hood

"I'm in here." said granny and out
came ~~the~~ granny from my body.

And they all lived
happily ever After.

Long ago in a faraway land I lived in a dark forest, I am always hungry.

One day three pigs moved in to a nice meadow and they made three different houses: One house was made of sticks and the last one was made of bricks.

One sunny afternoon, I went to the staw house and I said "If you don't come out I'll blow your house down!" He didn't come out so I huffed and I puffed and blew his house down, but he got away and went to his brothers house I was so tired I went home.

The next day I went to the next house and I shouted "If you two delicious, fat, juicy pigs don't come out, I'll blow your house down!" They didn't come out so I blew the house down but they ran to there little sisters house.

I went to the final house and said,
 'If you don't come out I'll blow
 your house down!' They didn't come out.

So I huffed and I puffed but I couldn't blow the house down so I went down
 the chimney but the pigs were expecting me I got trapped in their cooking pot
 I thought they were going to eat me,
 but they didn't instead there was a burger inside I thought it was a meat
 burger but it was a veggie burger
 and it made me a vegetarian.

Along time ago in a dark scary wood far far away I was sicking in my lair when I felt a bit hungry so I went looking about.

Ten minutes later, I spotted three ~~the~~ pigs building houses.

I went to the first house which was made out of straw and I said to the pig "let me in let me in".

The pig said "No!" so I huffed and I puffed and blew the house down.

The pig ran to the stick house
 made by his brother.

I went to the stick house and said "let me in let me in" and the pig said "No we will never let you in".

so I huffed and I puffed and blew down the stick house but those horrid little pigs got away.
 They ran to their sister's house which was made out of bricks.

I went to the brick house and said "You have nowhere to run now." So I huffed and I puffed but the stupid house wouldn't move.

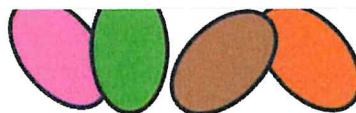

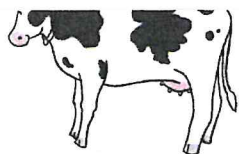

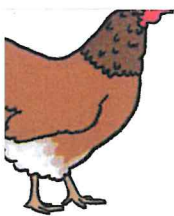

So I trained my self to become a vegetarian. A week later I went back to the three pigs and they decided to let me in. and for breakfast we had sprouts and for lunch we had carrots and for dinner we had potatoes.

And so I and the three little pigs lived happily ever after.

Once upon a time, in a kind kingdom far away land that I'm sure you have never heard of there I lived, a giant and my enemy, Jack.

I lived above the strangest clouds ever near a village! in a cramped castle.

One day I was looking down at the village and I was so hungry I almost put my hand down and pick a person up and eat it.

Two days later at midday I smelt a bit of human flesh outside. I followed it and I found that Jack was up a big tall beanstalk. I sprinted indoors and shouted to my servant "Lock all of the doors and windows."

Two hours later, I heard a small squeaky noise from one of the rooms
when I look someone was hiding
behind the sofa, it was Jack!

"Finally, I get to eat you!"

"No you are not!"

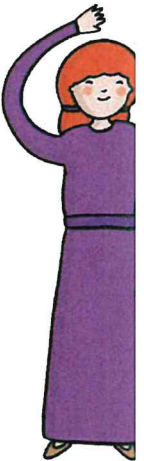

And Jack ran so fast I couldn't catch up with him.

"You'll never catch me!" he shouted.

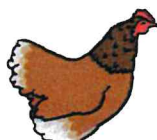

Soon he was at the bottom of the beanstalk and chopping it down. So I went down so fast I almost got him but it was too late - he had chopped it in half. I fell in pain.

"OW" I screamed

Once I got back up I went in search for more magic beans so I could get back home. But I never did get back home.

A long, long time ago in a faraway land, in my greening, dark cave, was me. Mr wolf, let me tell you about myself, I'm a wolf with grey scrappy hair and I am 2 metres high, 60 centimetres high. I'm starving what should I eat! Maybe a bunny, wait no a baby bunny, yes that is what I will eat, delicious! So I got myself one.

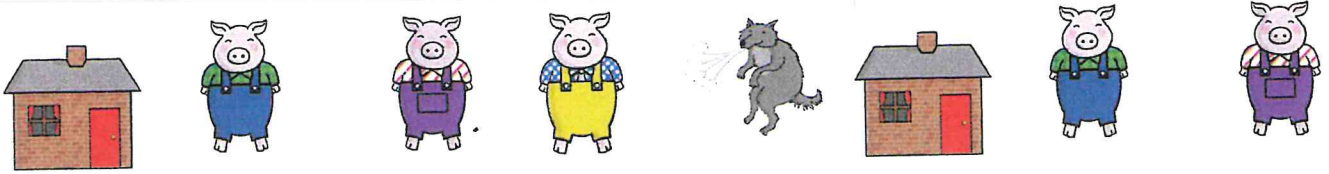

One horrible morning, some fat, yummy pigs moved into the neighbourhood. Oh! They looked so tasty, that saliva was everywhere. It was hard to describe them because they were so fat. I will invite them to my cave for supper, muwa ha ha ha haaa! I should probably clean up my messy cave first. Yum, porkkkk, saaaaah! 30 ~~more~~ minutes later! I have invited them to my cave. They should be here soon. 1 hour later. I didn't get a chance to eat them, maybe next time.

Hmph! What are they doing now? Are they building houses? Tomorrow I will say bye, bye pigsssss! Oh! I'm starving I think I will get a squishy, little, purry squirrel. Yummy!

So I went to their their houses. The first house was made out of straw so I knocked on the door and said, "come out little pig so I can eat youuuuuuu!"
"Never!!!" screamed the pig.
So I blew his down but the pig escaped and ran to his brother's house.

So I went to the next house which was made out of sticks. Before I even said anything I blew the house down and like usual the pigs ran to the next house but instead of me chasing them, I went back to my cave to think of a plan and after an hour I thought of something. I would go down the chimney. Meanwhile the pigs knew what I was going to do and heated a sup pot of super duper hot soup under the chimney.

When I was at the final chimney house, I knocked on the door and said, "come out now so I can eat you!"
There was no reply, so I climbed up the chimney and went down it but there was an unpleasant surprise. BOILING HOT SOUP! I ran home as quick as I could. When I got home my bottom was red for the rest of my life. The HORRIBLE pigs lived happily ever after!

 STUPID PIGS!!!!

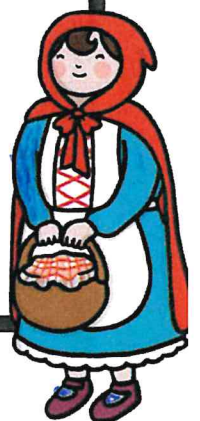

Long Long ago in a wood far away, I was very ill in my small hut. I had been told my granddaughter was ~~was~~ coming to stay. But that was when a wolf burst in and ate me!!!

Then Little Red came and said, "here you go grand... mother" and she got eaten as well, we stayed in there for hours until a woodcutter came and caged the wolf and got me and little red and we lived horribly ever after a few days later

The wolf's brother came and breed him and they ate the woodcutter so they ate me as well. Little Red sprinted through the forest and stopped at the lake which was boiling hot. One of the wolves jumped on to it. Yeowhhhh, he screeched luckily the woodcutter escaped.

"Good work" said the woodcutter.

Mr Hanky replied little Red they caught the other wolf got me out sent him to the zoo and we lived happily ever after.

Long, long ago, in a forest far,
far away. My granddaughter Little red was coming to visit, because,
I've been quite ill for the last few days.

She was taking a long time so,
I decided to ring mother,
but she didn't know what was holding her up. So I just waited. Then, suddenly, there was a knock on the door. I thought it was little red.

But it was a big hairy wolf with large, spiky ears. When he came in, he growled and locked me in the cupboard and put my night gown on.

Then I heard little red's voice
and she said to the wolf
"What big eyes you have!"

17 "All the better to see you with"
said the wolf

18 "What big ears you have!"
19 a little red exclaimed

20 "All the better to hear you with me dear"
the wolf whispered calmly

21 "What big ~~the~~ teeth you have"
said little red

22 "All the better to eat you with"
the wolf screamed while licking
his lips

23 "Aaaaahhh..." screamed little red while running very fast through the large, green forest with the wolf running speedily behind her

And I was screaming little red, little red help.
But instead of little red, hearing me a wood cutter heard, so he ran in as quickly as he could and cut me out of the cupboard as quickly as he could. He was wearing an orange jacket, with reflective strips and blue jeans with big thick brown boots.

After all that the wolf was too tired to run any more so he fell asleep on a pile of wood. So, little red ran as fast as she could back to my house, and we sat on my bed and had a cup of tea.

and we all lived happily ever after.

Once upon a time, three billy goats went for a walk and came to a bridge there was long green grass on the over side. there was so much!

The small billy goat walked across the bridge but when it got halfway looked around and trotted over. The middle billy goat trotted across happily to. But when the big billy goat went to trot he was stopped by a troll. It looked awfully angry. he looked at the goat angrily "how dare you cross my bridge and wake me up I was having a lovely dream with women troll in!" They both looked at each other sternly suddenly the billy goat charged and the troll flew off the bridge.

and got pulled away by the river.

So the billy goat lovingly joined the two to eat the long swishy grass. Don't mess with billy goats! And they lived happily ever after.

Long, long ago, faraway in a dark, creepy

forest lived a wolf in a cave.

One day some little pigs came and built a house I thought they looked nice and I went to eat them so I went to the first and it was made out of wood and stew.

"I said, 'Let me in or I will blow your house down'"

The pig said, "NO!"

So I said, "Huff and puff"

And it came tumbling down. U regolutely,

The pig escaped so I ran and ran so I would catch up with him but he was too fast.

when I got to the third house it was big and made out of brick so I tried puff and puff however it didn't come down like the rest of them so I tried to find a place where I could get in I walk around and looked in through the window and saw a hole in the roof.

I climbed up, to jumped down and landed gave first on the concrete floor I hurt and I said, "If you don't let me be your friend, then you will have no friends"

"But I have friends" said the pig.

"But I have no friends" I said

"we can be friends" said the pig

"OK." I agreed

and the pig hugged me and I tried pushing them in the hot water but it didn't work and instead I got pushed in the water and so scolded my bottom and it hurt a lot.

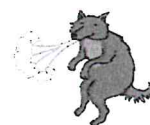

I ran back to my cave and jumped in some hot water but it was too hot so I ran out to a river. Near the cave and I got lost but I found my way to the village and ran really, really fast back to the cave and I but the pigs put some rope there so I would trip over.

I leapt over it and got splashed in the eye with cream. "You spiteful pigs" I screamed.

A long time ago I lived in a
 A dark cave. one day three pigs came and built some houses. One made house made of stone and made of sticks.
 The last made of bricks
 and it took longer to build.
 I went to the straw house
 and knocked at the door
 of the straw house.
 "oh little pig let me in" I said
 "not on my watch" shouted the pig.
 "I will blow your house down"
 I said (blow)
 "ahh A R R R R B Y R O F E R"
 screamed the pig. The following day
 "oh little pigs let me in" I said
 "No" bellowed the pigs
 "I blow the house down I said (blow)
 "ahh to sisters" the pigs said.
 the next day the pigs just had a nice straw and rose and sat down and said I have sage now.

then a strange knock at the door

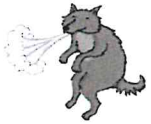

"oh little pigs, let me in" "I ^{hide} ~~say~~

"No" they said "I'll blow" (blow) "what I'll be good down the chimney?"

"put rot on the fire." "arrr I will not do this again."

Once upon a time in a land
far far away, lived a girl named Cinderella. She was on her carriage and ~~with~~ the prince. The prince would ~~NEVER~~ ~~just~~ never kiss
~~her~~ her at all because her So she ^I wanted ~~her~~ ^{my} to add of. She went to go to the ball. It took a long time to get there but I got there in.

But when she got there everyone was dancing and. She saw her Step Sisters there
and so she went into the ball room and everyone
thought she was so pretty.
The prince thought she was so pretty.

So they danced together
and they one made a circle
for them to dance in.
And they together and too.

It struck midnight.

So she ran away
from him so he said
Where are you going?

I toled her I needed
a pumckin and her mice
to get her there then I used My magic word
to make the st. up.
and she said. How long
would it take to make them?
just a few minab's.

The Gingerbread Man

Long long ago there lived an old man and a little old lady. They lived together in a bakery. One day the little old lady baked... ME! (The gingerbread man!) She put 2 purple smarties on me as buttons. 2 green smarties as eyes. Then she put me in the oven.

When she took me out of the oven, she put me on a plate ready to eat me. But before she could put me in her mouth I sprang to life! The little old man noticed me first then all in I know was that I was running. They tried to catch me so I bellowed, "Run, run, run you won't catch me because I'm the gingerbread man."

Then I came near a farm where a hen, a horse, a cow and a sheep. They all looked at me then each other they also wanted to eat me. So now the the little old man and lady were running after me and the horse the sheep

and the cows were running after me too so I shouted "Run, run, run, you won't catch me because I'm the gingerbread man."

They couldn't catch me, ha, ha, ha,
it was so funny. But I came to a river and I couldn't get across.
However there just happened to be a fox passing by and I asked him
if he would give me a ride across.
So he did.

"Yes I will, but only if I can eat
you after."

"No!" I said, because if he did there's no point. But I said you can give me a ride, but you can't eat me." So he gave me a ride, then he started to chase me so I said "Run,

run, run you might catch me because I'm the gingerbread man."

But then I slowed down because I had run out of energy, and then the fox caught up with me
and cautiously ate me alive!
Finally he had ate me, and I guess that was his dinner for the day.

The Gingerbread-man

Long, long, ago I was born in a forest inside a den. I looked up and saw my mum's face. She whispered, "It's time you go and look after your self."

I thought, "You say what now?"

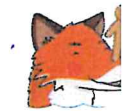

Anyway, I had a pretty good idea when shoved me out of the den.

I was prowling in some shadows towards a bakery, when I saw a gingerbread-man screaming, "Run, run as fast as you can, you can't catch me because I'm the gingerbread-man."

"Cricky" I thought when I saw 2 old people, a young boy and a horse chasing him. I ran up to a river and so I hid behind a tree.

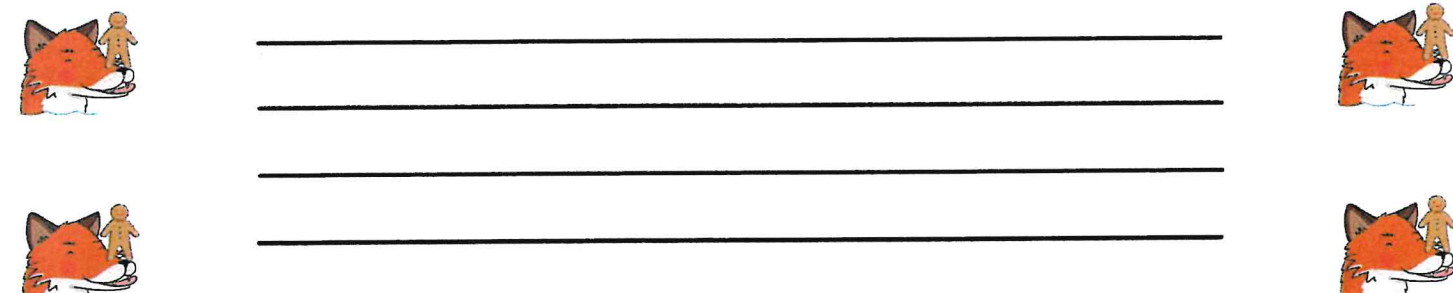

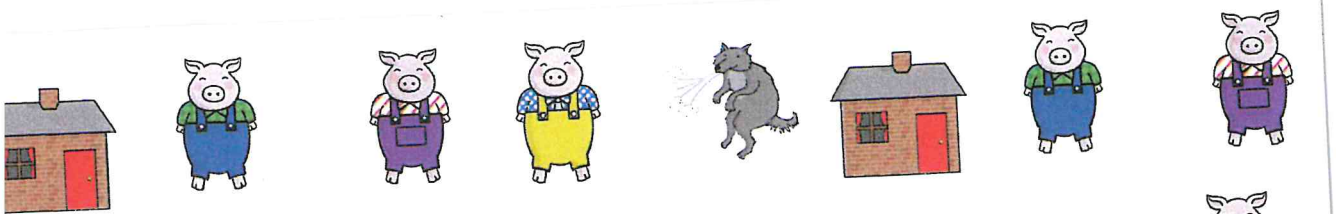

At that second, a crow came and joined in.

So now I saw the gingerbread-man stop at the river, so I went up to him and said, "step on my head and I'll bring you to the other side."

"Um, okay" he stuttered. The Gingerbread-man as he stumbled on my head.

When I got half way, I swung my head up. The Gingerbread-man did a triple somersault into my jaws! At least he was still warm & delicious with some ginger (Yum) and that was the end of the gingerbread-man!

long ago far far away in a dark and haunted forest lived me - the hungry wolf.

one early morning three pigs
moved into the village around my forest they looked very tasty and pork was my all-time favourite and I was starving & but tried to stop myself
from going and eating them straight away so I gave them to get fatter and juicier.

But in those few days they built houses.

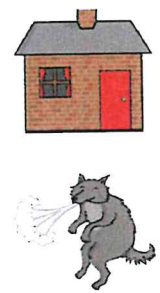

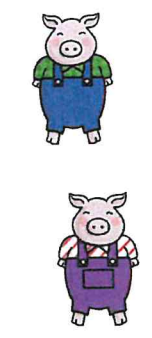

I had waited until I was truly starving
so I tried inviting them over but didn't so work so I went over to their houses and said "let me in let me in"
houses etc

"Not by the hair on my chinny chin-chinny" so I huffed and I puffed and I blew the straw house down but Pig wasn't there so I went to the stick house the wouldn't let me

in so I had no choice except for so blow the house down so I did.

This and final house confident blowing this one down but I tried and just couldn't but they gave and me some meat I didn't like it I haven't eaten any meat since well not yet at least.

I am a wolf and I live in a dark, dark cave. My cave is next to an opening in a scary forest.

One day my tummy started rumbling
so loudly that the cave shook.

"I need food!"; I shouted. I saw three little chubby pigs who looked tasty.

I peeked through the trees and decided that those pigs would be my lunch. I swept through the trees to have a better look at what the pigs were doing.

It looked like they were building
their own houses.

One of the pigs built his house
out of straw with a bare inside and a smooth floor. I saw the pig walking back and forth out of the house
to collect more straw.

I sneaked up to the straw house
and when the pig wasn't looking,
I huffed and puffed and blew the house down.

The little pig ran to the other pigs
house which was made out of sticks.

I sneaked round the trees and swept to the back of the house. They didn't see me so I huffed and puffed
and blew the house down.

Both the pigs ran to the final pig's house and hid in the corner. I felt like I was too far out in the open but there was a tree not too far away.

I ducked around the tree to have a sneaky peek at what the three pigs were doing. (They were doing nothing.) So I ran up to their house and I huffed and puffed but didn't blow the house down.

"Why? ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ?" I shouted. So I decided to go down the chimney. I ran up the wall and jumped down the chimney. But there was a fire that they had made so I fell in it and burnt to death. The pigs lived happily ever after!

Little Red Riding Hood.

Long ago, in a cave a wolf sat ~~and~~ hungrily at the mouth of the cave. But one day his stomach was going to stop rumbling because he saw from his cave a plump woman that would be a lovely to treat to eat, but too late. ~~the~~ the woman was gone. So that was that.

One day a girl Little Red Riding Hood and her mother into the little town. Three days later, the girl went to see the plump woman (her granny). I longed to eat. ^{ily} I sneaked ^{keet} planned a fantastic secret meal. I sneaked into the house and dressed as granny and I locked her up.

After my false granddaughter arrived she knew I was a wolf and began to insult me like this.

"What large ears you have." I gave a low growl but said nothing. "What big eyes you have." All the better to see you with. "I sneezed. But little red was determined to do this. "What a big nose you have." I replied. "All the better to smell you with." Now she was making me angry. I began to get tempted to eat her but I kept my stomach waiting but said, "Thank you my dear, as nice as a granny would."

But little red had other plans and kept on talking. "What huge teeth you have." "All the better to eat you with." I replied. Now I was getting very, very tempted but waited patiently. Next by a wood cutter was passing by and heard the commotion and barged through the door with his axe and found me ready to pounce. The wood cutter fought ^{me} and was victorious.

I fled back to my dark and lonely cave.

Meanwhile, Little Red and the woodcutter freed granny and ate
the delicious cakes and cookies
Red's mother had baked. However
I (the wolf) was never seen again.
